A small, dark, blurry object is visible in the center of a clear blue sky. The object has a dark, circular core with a lighter, possibly white or light blue, ring or halo around it. The overall appearance is that of a distant celestial body or a small aircraft, but the image is too blurry to identify it definitively.

A photograph of a clear blue sky. In the foreground, several power lines run diagonally from the top left towards the center. In the bottom right corner, the roofs and upper walls of houses are visible, along with some bare trees and a green lawn. The overall scene is captured from a low angle, looking up at the sky.

A dark, horizontal, blurry mark on a light-colored surface. The mark is somewhat irregular in shape, with a darker, more solid center and lighter, more diffuse edges. It appears to be a smudge or a stain on a light-colored, possibly textured, background.

© Lowwalk 2005

A night-time photograph of a city skyline, likely from an elevated position. The foreground and middle ground are filled with a dense array of city lights, appearing as a blurred, glowing expanse of white and yellow points. Above the city, the sky is dark, and a single, bright, out-of-focus light source is visible in the upper-middle portion of the frame. The overall image has a grainy, low-resolution quality.
